ArcTitan is an easy way to access every email an organization has sent or received.

Year on year, email growth occurs across almost all business infrastructures. That's growth in the number of emails, the average size of emails, and the importance of emails, leading to longer backups and increased costs to the customer.

With a unique indexing algorithm, ArcTitan gives users instant access to any email they have ever sent or received without putting strain on the mail server or compromising search response times.

Your email data is always available, replicated, and secure. With ArcTitan you can meet all your business compliance requirements and address archiving requests easily.

With low set-up costs and no infrastructure or expertise required, it's the perfect solution for SMBs.

Customer Quotes

"ArcTitan email archiving is one of the best services we have. I can't begin to figure out how many times it has solved problems or how much time it has saved me from having to search PST files."

Steven Davis, VP of MIS, PARABIT SYSTEMS

"Fast search, scalable, very easy to operate and has all the email archiving features a company needs to have. Safe and the cost was fantastic. A truly superb cloud email archiving tool that has saved us in both ways - pricing and compliance."

Jesse Gusmao, IT Manager, SOCIEDADE HOSPITAL SAMARITANO, BRASIL
